The Republican Gazette is the organ of the Syndicate. It is the organ of Eli West. It is the organ of the principal stock holder, Frank Wheeler, Blaine candidate for election in this district.

Fisher and Mulligan have given the press a lot of letters from Blaine to these two gentlemen, showing his corruption and his prostitution of his high office for personal ends. The publication of these letters have created a tremendous sensation.

The election of Cleveland means putting Judge Thurman in the Cabinet. The election of Blaine means putting Fred Douglass in the Cabinet. The election of Cleveland means white men in front. The election of Blaine means negroes in the mines.

Every farmer in the county should arrange to attend our Fair and bring with him something to exhibit. The Hocking Fair is our Fair, and we should all unite in making it one of the best in the State.

Let every good citizen of the county give at least one day to the Fair. We have politics every day, and lots of it. Let's give one day to the Fair, all uniting on the common platform that Hocking is a good county, equal to the best, and that our Fair is a success.

A vacant house, the property of Mrs. Stiers, near the railroad, was burned down Tuesday night. It is supposed the house was purposely set on fire.

Cleveland and Hendricks Club at Enterprise.
The Democrats of Enterprise and vicinity held a meeting Saturday evening, Sept. 13th. Mr. V. C. Lowry of Logan, delivered an address, after which a Cleveland and Hendricks club was organized.

The following officers were elected:
President, J. B. Mathias; Vice President, A. Brown; Secretary, G. W. Lloyd; Treasurer, J. H. Kline.

The members of the Club are all filled with enthusiasm, and will do all in their power to make the present campaign one of great victory and success.

Last Saturday, the 13th day of September, being the 60th birthday of Rev. J. F. Williams, his friends concluded to give him the pleasure of a surprise party, and while he was out making calls on the evening, some 75 or 80 of them gathered at his home in Logan with well filled baskets.

On his return, they welcomed him with many kind wishes. A pleasant feature of the occasion, was the presentation by his Sunday School Class, (numbering about fourteen Misses) of a handsome Hymnal, and a beautiful Gold Headed Cane by his children.

He was also the recipient of many other beautiful presents, expressive of the high esteem in which he is held by his friends.

Bro. McMahon and his estimable wife, handsomely entertained at dinner on last Thursday, a number of the newspaper gang and their wives. The bountiful hospitality displayed, assures us that a man can be editor & postmaster and at the same time have a tender heart for the poor hungry editors who have only a couple of cents to live on at home.

Mr. and Mrs. McMahon will accept our thanks for the pleasant courtesies extended to us and ours.

The boys of the New Lexington Herald have published a very handsome and interesting biographical notice of McMahon together with a detailed statement of the legislative and other proceedings, relative to the transfer of his remains from Turkey and final sepulture at New Lexington.

The book can be had for the sum of 10 cents, and is worth ten times that price.

Woody Discharged.
Woody, who was arrested by Norris on suspicion of being a party to the killing of Bill Harp, was brought before Probate Judge Acker on last Friday, on a preliminary examination.

A hundred or more citizens of Nelsonville were in attendance on the trial, among whom were some of the most prominent business men of the place, all of whom thought the arrest in the first place, a great outrage.

Bright and Burgess appeared against the prisoner, but denied representing the State.

Jewett of Athens, Groghen and Wright appeared for the prisoner.

A number of witnesses were examined, the trial lasting two days.

Judge Acker found there was no evidence against Woody and discharged him.

This performance of Norris will cost the county hundreds of dollars and demonstrates the wonderful incapacity as a detective of the Grand Calliope of the Hocking Valley Rail Road and Syndicate to annoy the public and make costs for the taxpayers.

When Bro. Willard took charge of the Syndicate organ, and began his brain-racking work of editing the Rock House arrivals and the Gore correspondence, Dr. Col. Rempel set aside for editorial use, his favorite hen, whose fresh egg each morning was administered to the editor as a brain strengthener.

Bro. Willard developed under this treatment, and ventured upon editorials on the tender attachments to widows. The egg-traditional support was withheld from the editor and allowed to Davenport, the local.

The consequence is that the editorial last week discussed local in babies, and the local presented an upside down Acrostic.

Col. Rempel should give the intellects in charge of his organ a shower bath, or some cooling lotion.

Col. Buerhaus and his father have returned from their visit to Europe, in excellent health and good spirits, having had a most enjoyable visit. Carl promises at an early day to write some of his adventures for the Sentinel, which we know will be interesting.

Mr. J. E. Short, Clerk of Ward township, is not only an accomplished officer, disposing of business with exactness and dispatch, but he is also an accommodating gentleman, and a popular Democrat whom the public will properly appreciate and reward.

Dr. Johnson of Nelsonville, formerly of our town, made us a pleasant call last Friday.

Bound to Win.
The miners will win in this fight. Corporate wealth can not crush intelligence.

The men of the Hocking Valley who have helped build school houses and churches will not be supplanted by the lousy, lazy wretches Speculation attempts to plant on the Monday Creek.

We urge upon the intelligent miners the importance of keeping cool, keeping quiet, remaining peaceable. The fight is about over.

Your homes and your work places will be preserved to you. Be patient. Don't create a disturbance. Don't violate the law. Public sentiment is with you and the Syndicate must come to terms, or it will explode like a baby's balloon.

If the Syndicate turns you out of a house, notify the Governor. He will give you a tent. If you are hungry, and the Syndicate locks its stores, come to Logan, and we will give you something to eat.

The monstrous Monopoly, whose pestilential breath has blasted the valley, is dying of its own poison.

It will not be long until individual enterprise will again rene control of our miners, and the Hocking valley under honest effort and a fair adjustment of the rights of Labor and Capital again become the industrial garden spot of the continent.

The hindrance to peace and prosperity is an outbreak from violent and foolish miners. Again we insist that the miners be orderly, quiet, law abiding, and soop all will be well.

Private James R. Hopley, Editor of the Bucyrus Evening Times, passed through our city on Monday, with his Company for Snake Hollow.

Private Hopley is heroic but is not warlike. He fences well with a pencil, but he fences faintly with a gun. He has read of the snake stories from Snake Hollow in the Sentinel, and he hopes for the Sanctuary of Evening Times in Bucyrus.

As Bill Taylor might, rapturously and poetically put it—

He who wept a bitter tear,
Stood like a boy hunting worms,
Over the deep hills of Monday Creek,
Scoured at the bottom of a ground squirrel.

Hold his breath at the thought of a snake,
Cows, Cots and Critics passed him in review,
The ground Pinkerton, the opulent operator,
The half-breed to death, and
Even John T. Norris passed before his bulging eyes like the spectre to a dream.

We hope Bro. Hoply will have a pleasant excursion, and that his campaign, going on the Monday Creek will afford him much material for enjoyable reminiscence the balance of his life.

The Fair.
The indications are that we will have the best Fair this year the county has witnessed for years. The people of town and county are all becoming alike interested, and the display promises to be not only abundant, but of superior excellence.

The premiums are liberal, and all lines of stock, as well as all branches of industry are properly recognized.

If you have not yet prepared something for the Fair, begin now to do so.

Another Bolt from Blaine.
East Liverpool, Ohio, Sept. 11.—The voters, who constitute a large portion of the population, are declaring their intentions of supporting the Democratic ticket. The Potter's Gazette, their organ, and always a Republican paper heretofore, has come out squarely for Cleveland.

And Still Another.
The Circle City Herald, a bright and new daily paper, heretofore Republican in politics, made this announcement: "At the head of the editorial page of the Circleville Democratic Herald will be found the national, state, congressional, judicial and county Democratic ticket. We shall heartily support this ticket from and including president down to and including corner."

Couldn't Swallow Blaine.
Hon. Geo. H. Moore, better known to newspaper readers throughout his famous political letters signed "Templeton," has resigned his position as editor on the Saturday Evening after thirteen and one half years' service, because he preferred not to write editorials in accordance with the present policy of the paper, which is to support the Republican National ticket.

Mr. T. R. Mason, of Starr township, is attending lectures at the Sterling Medical College in Columbus.

The McGahan Obituaries.
On last Thursday the largest crowd of people ever assembled in Perry county, met at New Lexington to render the last tribute of honor and christian charity to one of her most illustrious children.

Not less than fifteen thousand people were assembled, including representatives of the press from all parts of the State and Nation, as well as the most prominent and distinguished citizens of the country.

The remains were enclosed in an elegant casket, covered with black cloth, and remained during the preceding night in the Court Room, the Military Company doing guard honor duty.

Beautiful floral tributes from the press of New York, Columbus and Zanesville, were displayed on the coffin.

The religious services were conducted by Father Meshegno, assisted by the Clergy of St. Joseph.

Bishop Watterson preached a brilliant discourse upon the power of the press, the obligation of the press, and the duty of the press, holding up McGahan as one worthy to imitate in the purity of his sentiments, the earnestness and honesty of his conclusions, and the truthfulness and decency of his expressions.

Judge Wright delivered a masterly address upon the newspaper correspondent, which attracted universal admiration from the audience, especially from the members of the press, extracts of which are published elsewhere.

Mr. E. S. Colburn, the veteran journalist of New Lexington, delivered an appropriate eulogy, and Col. W. A. Taylor recited an original poem which in poetic thought and expression, is a masterpiece of literary composition. The poem was published last week.

Messrs McMahon of Tribune and Green of Sentinel, acted as a Committee on Reception, and gave such attention as was possible to the strangers and editors from abroad, selecting the following as pall bearers:

Newman, Portsmouth Times; Vance, Gallipolis Bulletin; Irvine, Zanesville Signal; Gauma, Zanesville Signal; Harper, Mt. Vernon Banner; Comly, Toledo Telegram; Weitzler, Lancaster Eagle; Smith, Shawnee Banner; Allen, Steubenville Gazette; Davenport, Logan Rep-Gazette; Hancock, New Lexington Herald; Smith, Journal Col.; Fickinger, Engle City.

Besides the above, in the list were Senators O'Neill of Zanesville and Elliott of Hamilton, President of State Board of Columbus, Wes. McClintock of Zanesville, Hon. W. E. Fink of Somers, Representative Evans of Gallipolis.

The remains were interred in the summit of the beautiful cemetery one half mile south of town.

The Church and Court House were beautifully decorated and draped in emblems of mourning, and many of the private residences.

The local committee managed the affair with excellent judgment and to the satisfaction of every body.

It was a great day for New Lexington, and we hope all may be benefitted in the lessons to be learned from it—that even the obscure country boy who does his duty and abides in his faith, his grave will ascend from hearts of living, pious people earnest prayers for his rest, in all the generations to come.

Col. Jewett of Athens, one of the ablest lawyers in the Hocking Valley, conducted the defense for Woody, charged by J. F. Norris with murder, and gained his case, not only completely vindicating his client, but almost establishing the fact that punishable outrages had been practiced by the Giant-titan.

Col. Jewett developed an earnestness as well as an ability that commands him as a man of heart and principle as well as a lawyer of skill and brain.

Premium List.
If you have not got a premium list for the Fair, call at the Sentinel office and get a copy. We have several hundred for distribution. Those who call first will be served first.

Congressman Converse.
Hon. George L. Converse, our distinguished Congressman, will be with Sam. Randall in Logan, on the 29th. His many admirers of both parties will be glad to give him a hearty welcome.

Pole Raising at Enterprise.
The railroad will carry passengers to Enterprise on Saturday, Sept. 20th, noon trip only 25cts.

William H. Gould, son of Charles Gould, of Logan, passed a very creditable examination as a Naval Cadet at Annapolis, Md., last week. Mr. Gould was appointed through the recommendation of Hon. George L. Converse, and he need have no fears as to the young Cadet, as he will be a credit to the district. —New Lexington Herald.

"Reminiscences of an Ox Driver," by Mack, will find a preferred space in the Sentinel immediately after our rejoicing over the election of Cleveland and Hendricks. Just now our readers want local news and policies. There is a time for everything you know, Mack.

Married—at the residence of the bride's father, by T. D. Woods, J. P. September 4th, 1884. Mr. Solomon Urie, to Miss Sarah E. Cowan, all of Laurel township, Hocking county, Ohio.

Col. Frank Merriek, acting general counsel for the annual Legal Court operating in the syndicate Soudan, was in the city yesterday taking a reconnaissance of the situation. Mahdi Merriek was no doubt surprised to notice the signal across his brilliant legal staff have displayed in losing cause against the miners.
